Definitions for Review:

1. Reveal – v.t.; revealed, pt., pp.; revealing, ppr.
 [Fr. reveler, from L. revelare, to unveil; re-, and velare, to veil.] 1. To disclose; to show; to make known, as something before unknown or concealed; as to reveal secrets. 1. To disclose, discover, or make known (that which would be unknown without divine or supernatural instruction). Source: Webster’s Universal Dictionary of the English Language 1940.

'5' Questions:

1. Who gives the light?
2. Who is the giver of the Light?
3. What are those who have been given the light called?
4. What is the Savior of the world?
5. What will man be at one with?

2. Light – n. [ME. Light, liht; AS. leoht, light, from the Teut. Root luh, to be light.] 1. That form of motion or energy capable of affecting the organs of sight and thus rendering visible the objects from which it proceeds. The undulatory theory is that light results from rapid vibrations of the molecules of the luminous body; that these vibrations are transmitted through the ether as wavelike movements at the rate of over 186,400 miles per second; and that these movements act upon the nerves of the retina, causing the sensation of light. The corpuscular or emission theory of Newton supposed that luminous bodies threw off corpuscles or particles in straight lines. The electromagnetic theory considers light to be an electromagnetic wave disturbance. Source: Webster’s Universal Dictionary of the English Language 1940.

For Review:

- The son of Herod, Archelaus, reigned in Jerusalem. He was a selfish, cruel king; he put to death all those who did not honor him.
- He called in council all the wisest men and asked about the infant claimant to his throne.
- “It is not strange; there are no happenings; law governs all events.”
- An age has passed; the gate unto another age flies open at the touch of time. This is the preparation age of soul, the kingdom of Immanuel, of Allah in man.
- A mighty work is theirs, for carnal men want not the light; the love the dark, and when the light shines in the dark they comprehend it not.

Concluding Perspective:

“Then every man of earth will read the words of life in language of his native land, and men will see the light, walk in the light and be the light.
